

Jennifer Barrick

Vice President, Enterprise East

As VP of Volt's Southeast leadership, Jennifer manages customer growth and oversees the operation of large branches and onsite engagements in the region. During her time at Volt, Jennifer has led some of the company's largest accounts, continually finding ways to improve and refine the services provided. She has been extensively involved in developing and supporting programs in the light industrial and call center space. Throughout her 25+ years in staffing, Jennifer has been responsible for brand oversight and leading the growth of local branches. Her continual success improving Volt's account support demonstrates her expertise at integrating program capabilities with broader business goals to craft cohesive and effective strategies to benefit her clients.
